Greenhouse Gas (GHG) emissions have been calculated in accordance with the WBCSD-WRI Greenhouse Gas Protocol (revised edition, dated March 2014), produced by the World Business Council for Sustainable Development (WBCSD) and the World Resources Institute (WRI). This is a globally recognised standard and is best practice for a carbon footprint calculation. All residual GHG emissions have been offset through carbon credits that are PAS 2060 approved under the Clean Development Mechanism, Joint Implementation or Verified Carbon Standard. Details of the Qualifying Explanatory Statement demonstrating carbon neutrality is available online.
